Emmanuel O. Egbogah Receives SPE/AIME Honorary Membership from Society of Petroleum Engineers

Richardson, TX (18 October 2013) – The Society of Petroleum Engineers (SPE) recently honored Dr. Emmanuel O. Egbogah with SPE/AIME Honorary Membership at SPE's Annual Technical Conference and Exhibition held 30 September through 2 October in New Orleans, Louisiana, USA. Egbogah is Presidential Adviser on Petroleum at Emerald Energy Resources Ltd.

Honorary Membership is the highest honor that SPE presents to an individual. It is limited to 0.1% of the SPE total membership. This elite group represents those individuals who have given outstanding service to SPE and/or who have demonstrated distinguished scientific or engineering achievements in the fields within the technical scope of SPE.

SPE serves more than 110,000 members worldwide, sharing technical knowledge for the benefit of our industry. Each year, SPE presents awards that recognize members whose efforts have advanced petroleum technology, as well as their professional achievements and contributions to the industry and the society.

“It is an honor to recognize Emmanuel for his commitment and dedication to the oil and gas industry with the SPE/AIME Honorary Membership. SPE international award winners were nominated by their colleagues and selected by their peers for their achievement and contributions and it's my pleasure to congratulate them on receiving this prestigious international award from SPE,” said Egbert Imomoh, 2013 SPE President.
